5.2 Briefly explain the achievements and challenges of the Sustainable Development Goals.

There are 17 Sustainable Development Goals. Such goals are not directly relevant to the Public Service Commission, but an efficient public service is essential in implementing these goals. The contribution of the Public Service Commission is necessary for prompt and efficient public service.

This commission shoulders in developing an efficient public service which is much essential in achieving the objectives mentioned above.

In order to achieve these sustainable development goals, it is important to fill the existing vacancies in the public service in a timely and formal manner, to grant promotions to the officers without delay, and also to carry out the necessary activities to maintain discipline in the public service.

A satisfactory and efficient public service could be developed by performing duties as described above and the same would pave the way for the public officers to achieve sustainable development goals.

Nevertheless, the initiation and implementation of each of the above-mentioned functions should primarily be carried out by the authority with delegated power of the Public Service Commission, namely, Ministry Secretaries and Heads of Departments.

Accordingly, it is not practical to apply the achievement of sustainable development goals directly to this Commission.
